Annual Report: Mind Brain Behavior Public Outreach Center

State Submission Reporting Period: October 2015 - September 2016

The Mind Brain Behavior Public Outreach Center, also known as the Wellness Center, will provide health resources to serve area residents. Physicians from Columbia University Medical Center will host community-based initiatives that train members of the Harlem community and beyond to become health advocates to prevent stroke and promote mental health. The center will provide free cholesterol and blood pressure screenings.

At the time of this report, the Mind Brain Behavior Public Outreach Center was in the process of moving into the space and had not commenced full operation. As per Columbia's commitment, the center will operate for a 25 year period from commencement of full operation. A more robust annual report will be provided in the next submission on October 16, 2017.
