Re: Installation of Wireless Internet Access on Manhattanville Campus

David,

This letter serves as an amendment to the letter dated September 21, 2017 to include the additional spaces on the Manhattanville Campus that are now being provided wireless internet access.

Columbia University Information Technology has successfully installed and will continue to maintain wireless internet access in the following areas of the Manhattanville Campus:

- Jerome L. Greene Science Center
- Lenfest Center for the Arts
- Small Square Open Space
- University Forum (as of September 2018)
- The Grove Open Space (as of September 2018)

It continues to be CUIT's understanding, based on conversations between CU Facilities (MDG) and NYC Parks, that the West Harlem Piers Park remains covered with free WiFi under an agreement between the NYC Parks and Time Warner Cable (now Spectrum). Accordingly, CUIT considers the obligation to provide free WiFi in West Harlem Piers Park to be satisfied.

Sincerely,

Gaspare LoDuca
