Community Updates

WELCOME TO THE NEW NEIGHBORS BULLETIN

Welcome to the first issue of the Neighbors Bulletin, which will replace Growing Together, and provide news and events of interest for our Neighbors in Northern Manhattan. The Bulletin is part of the newly-launched Neighbors Hub at Columbia University. Designed to foster collaboration and strengthen ties between the University and our surrounding community, the Hub includes a new website, social media, monthly e-news, and folds in the existing twice-yearly print newsletter. Over the following months you will see us develop the Hub and its various mediums into a platform that provides relevant and timely news, events, and opportunities for neighbors of Columbia University. The Neighbors Hub is maintained by the Office of Government and Community Affairs in collaboration with the Office of Public Affairs and Columbia University Facilities and Operations. Contact neighbors@columbia.edu if you have any questions or would like to contribute to a future publication.
