Obligation Start Date: May 20, 2009 (PACB Approval date)

Obligation End Date: May 20, 2034 (25 Years from Commencement)

Obligation Status: In Compliance

Obligation

Athletics Clinics. Commencing in May 20, 2009, CU's varsity sports programs and coaches of football, volleyball, basketball, soccer, swimming, track and field and tennis shall sponsor and participate in seasonal sports clinics for local community children between the ages of 5 and 13 in Columbia's facilities and throughout Harlem and Washington Heights, until 2033 or for a period of 25 years from actual commencement, whichever is longer.

Innovation; Changed Conditions

Columbia University hosts a variety of sports clinics and camps throughout the year for children at its NCAA Division 1 athletic facilities built for collegiate and professional competitions in Morningside Heights and Inwood in northern Manhattan. Clinic and camp participants develop skills by receiving instruction from NCAA Division 1 coaches, professional athletes, collegiate student-athletes, physical education teachers, and other educators. All clinics and camps are open to any and all entrants, and are limited only by the specified number, gender, age, or grade levels of each camp.

To keep costs as low as possible, clinics and camps are offered at CU facilities so there are no additional facilities fees. Additionally, the eligible age range has been expanded from nine (ages 5 to 13) to thirteen (ages 6 to 18) due to a variety of factors, including keeping costs low based on required supervision ratios, the strengths of available programming and the interest in serving a greater number of local community children. Clinics and camps are provided at cost and are advertised by individual coaches to the community in a variety of ways, including the Columbia Athletics website, coach websites, newsletters, social media posts, and local media. The Columbia Athletics department also participates in local school events such as silent auctions to promote camps and clinics.

The screenshot shows the Columbia University Athletics website. At the top, it says "COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK" and has a search icon. Below that is the Columbia University logo and "Physical Education & Recreation at The Dodge Fitness Center". A navigation menu includes "Physical Education", "Membership", "Fitness", "Club Sports", "Intramurals", "Camps", "Wellness", and "About Us". A breadcrumb trail shows "Home" > "Camps" > "Sports Camps". The main heading is "Sports Camps". The text describes the variety of camps, the commitment to excellence, and the location of camps. A table lists various sports camps with external links.

Sports Camps

Columbia University Athletics is proud to host a variety of sports camps throughout the year that appeal to children of all ages and interests.

Our commitment to excellence provides campers with the opportunity to further develop their skills in multiple sports by receiving instruction from NCAA Division 1 coaches, professional athletes, collegiate student-athletes, physical education teachers, and other educators. Participants in our camps also have a chance to play in Columbia's NCAA Division 1 athletic facilities as they improve their abilities, learn new sports and skills, and enjoy an action-packed summer.

Camps are either located on campus in the Dodge Fitness Center or uptown at the Baker Athletics Complex. Please double check the location of the camp before you register.

All camps are open to any and all entrants, and are limited only by the specified number, gender, age, or grade levels of each camp.
